Art Unit: 3641

1. Applicant's election without traverse of the species A invention (fig. 1) in the reply filed on 5/18/2004 is acknowledged.

Claims 5-6, 10-11, and 16-17 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to non-elected species. Claims 1-4, 7-9, 12-15, and 18-20 read on the elected invention and an action on these claims follows.

2. Claims 1-4, 7-9, 12-15, and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 5, how is the phrase "a base" intended to relate to the previously claimed "base" (see claim 1, line 4)? In claim 1, line 5; in claim 9, line 6; and in claim 12, line 5; what direction is intended by the phrase "a direction of firing"? In claim 1, line 6, what the term "them" is intended to reference is indefinite. Please clarify. In claims 2 and 13, what length is intended by the phrase "a guage of the cartridge" and how is this equal to the diameter of base 16? In claim 9, lines 6-7, what length is intended by the phrase "the guage of the cartridge" and how is this equal to the diameter of the external wall of the wad? In claim 3, the phrase "the diameter" lacks an antecedent. In claim 3, how is the diameter of the cylindrical lateral wall at least one gauge less than the guage of the base? What amount or distance is intended by the phrase "at least one guage"? Claim 9, lines 7-8 and claim 14 are indefinite for like reasons. In claims 4 and 15, what item is intended by the phrase "a whole or segmented annular element"? In claim 9, line 4, how is the phrase "steel small shot" intended to relate to the previously claimed (steel small shot)? In claim 12, line 5, how is the phrase "a base" intended to relate to the previously claimed (base)? In claim 12, line 6, what item is intended to correspond to the claimed "a spacer means"? Note that the cylindrical outer wall is not the spacer means but rather determines the limits or borders of the space. In claim 19, line 1, the phrase "said spacer" lacks an antecedent. In claim 20, line 1, how is the phrase "steel shoot" intended to relate to the previously claimed steel shot?

3. The term "small" in claims 1, 9, and 12 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "small shot" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention. The terminology small shot makes the claim indefinite as to what size of shot is or is not intended to be inclusive in such terminology. What is small relative to one size of shot is large relative to another size of shot.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless —

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-4, 12-15, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rickey.

Rickey discloses a cartridge and wad comprising:

- | | |
|---|-------------------|
| a) a case with end percussion cap; | 10, 12, 14, 16 |
| b) a firing charge in said case; | 18 |
| c) a wad for accommodating small shot; | 28 |
| d) a base turned toward the firing charge ; | 26, 24 |
| e) a cylindrical lateral wall; | see figs. 2 and 3 |

Art Unit: 3641

- f) an annular space; between 34 and 10
- g) an annular element; and 38
- h) shot. 22

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 8-9 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rickey in view of Kosteck.

Rickey applies as previously recited. However, undisclosed is shot for a shotshell that is steel shot. Kosteck teaches shot for a shotshell that is steel shot 24. Applicant is substituting one material type of shot for another in an analogous art setting as explicitly encouraged by the secondary reference (see Kosteck, col. 3, line 18). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in this art at the time of the invention to apply the teachings of Kosteck to the Rickey shotshell and have a shotshell with a different material type of shot.

8. Claims 1-4, 7, 12-15, and 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Critcher.

Critcher discloses a cartridge and was comprising:

- a) a case with end percussion cap; 5, 2, 6
- b) a firing charge in said case; 18
- c) a wad for accommodating small shot; 14, 21
- d) a base turned toward the firing charge ; 14

Art Unit: 3641

- e) a cylindrical lateral wall; 21
- f) an annular space; see fig. 1
- g) an annular element including a conical surface converging
downwardly; and 14 (see fig. 1)
- h) shot. 23

9. Claims 1-4, 7, 12-15, and 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by SU 1607552 A1.

SU 1607552 A1 discloses a cartridge and wad comprising:

- a) a case with end percussion cap; fig. 2
- b) a firing charge in said case; fig. 2
- c) a wad for accommodating small shot; fig. 1
- d) a base turned toward the firing charge ; fig. 1
- e) a cylindrical lateral wall; 5
- f) an annular space; between 5 and 6
- g) an annular element including a conical surface converging
downwardly; and between 5 and 6
- h) shot. 3

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Fackler and de Casanovas et al. disclose other state of the art shotshells.
